Attractions

April 13-19

Sloan Museum

1221 E. Kearsley Street, Flint • (810) 237-3450 • sloanlongway.org

(Monday-Friday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday & Sunday 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.) Enjoy regional history, historic automobiles and hands-on science activities where children and adults can explore principles of chemistry and physics through exhibits and staff presentations.

"Videotopia" - Come play classic video games we all know and love, just like in an arcade, including Pac-Man, Donkey Kong and Q-Bert. The exhibit includes dozens of restored and new arcade video games - everything from the first machine ever made, to the first machines to utilize microprocessors, software, 3-D, graphics, etc., right on up to today's greatest simulator games. Visitors receive 4 tokens with every paid admission.

"Collecting Flint from A to Z" - The Sloan Museum has a lot of artifacts, nearly 400,000 of them! You name it, they probably have one. A large, eclectic collection is required to accurately record life in Flint and Genesee County over the last 200 years. This exhibit highlights 26 groups from Sloan's vast and varied collection, normally hidden away in storage. Each alphabetized set reveals something about Flint's shared history. See historic automobiles and firearms, radios and wedding dresses, beer, blueprints and everything in-between.

"Flint and The American Dream" - Relive Flint's dramatic history, as the birthplace of General Motors comes to life with over 600 artifacts and photographs, including rare antique automobiles, colorful neon signs, period clothing, household furnishings, commercial goods and much more. Encounter the ups and downs of General Motors, the birth of the UAW and what life was like in Flint during the 50s, 60s and 70s.

(Tours run 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.) Stockton House was constructed in 1872 by Thomas and Maria Stockton, a very prominent and influential couple of the Flint & Genesee community. In 1920, the grandson of Thomas and Maria sold the house and its surrounding property to the Archdiocese of Detroit for the establishment of a hospital to be operated by the Sisters of St. Joseph, which consisted of 52 beds. Then in 2002, the 2 ½ story house was purchased by For Flint Investments, renovated and designated as a Michigan Historical Site and a State Historical Marker. Come tour this beautiful building with a fascinating history.

Art & Culture

April 13-19

Flint Institute of Arts (FIA)

1120 E. Kearsley Street, Flint • (810) 234-1695 • flintarts.org

(Monday-Wednesday & Friday 12 p.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday 12 p.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.) Visit the FIA and browse through their outstanding collections of American, European, Native American, African and Asian art, including paintings, sculptures, prints, drawings and decorative arts featuring a complete set of 17th century French tapestries.

"The Islander: Walter Anderson Watercolors" - Walter Anderson's vibrant Horn Island watercolors reflect his attempt to divine the essence of nature and reveal humanity's connection to its elemental vitality. Anderson lived in Mississippi and made frequent trips to Horn Island, part of the barrier reef along the Gulf Coast. Over a period of eighteen years, he made thousands of watercolors of birds, insects, reptiles and more. Never intended for public viewing, these images on display were discovered by Anderson's widow after his death in 1965.

"French Art Deco Enameled Glass from the Ed & Karen Ogul Collection" - During the 1920s in France, the Art Deco style was known as Style Moderne and encompassed a wide variety of decorative arts. These works, which ranged from jewelry to furniture, were known for their sleek look, luxurious materials and bold combinations of colors and floral patterns with glass becoming one of the most versatile and stylish materials. View these wonderful glass objects on display, from vases to bowls, to toiletry sets and cocktail serving trays, all created by French artists that capture the essence of this French modern style.

"Common Ground: African American Art" - View the works of some of the most important African American artists from the 19th century, to present day, through collections from the FIA, Kalamazoo Institute of Arts and the Muskegon Museum of Art. The selections survey the history of African American art through more than 50 works in various mediums, including paintings, sculptures and works on paper.
